BEAUTIFUL! DURABLE! ELEGANT! USEFUL! JOSEPH LECOMPTRE, THE SOUTH SIDE DRUGGIST —HAS THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT AND FINEST COLLECTION OF— CHRISTMAS PRESENTS EVER BROUGHT TO THIS CITY.

•DON'T FAIL TO EXAMINE THEM BEFORE MAKING YOUR FINAL SELECTION.▪

The New Orleans Exposition opens on Tuesday.

The police caught a gang of about a dozen negro boys playing ootz in an empty box car on the switch above the tunnel Saturday morning and arrested the whole party.

The supper given by the ladies of the Baptist Church at the Court House Tuesday night was a perfect success. The attendance was large, and the receipts amounted to $130.

Judge W. L. Jett left Thursday for New Orleans to be present at the opening of the Great Exposition. He took along an exhibit of Drennon water, which will be kept on tap there during the winter.

Mr. Chas. W. Saffell has purchased of his grandfather, Mr. Jas. Saffell, sr., his farm of 50 acres, on the Law rencburg pike, about a mile from the city, and will go largely into the dairy and market gardening business.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Lewis returned Monday afternoon from Winchester, where he had been holding a meeting for the past two weeks with the Baptist Church in that city. The result was eight additions to the Church.

Mr. Richard Morris, of Spring Hill, has placed us under obligations for a basket of fresh lettuce grown by him this fall. It was as crisp and tender and the heads as large as any spring lettuce we have ever seen, and was of a splendid flavor.

An effort is being made to organize an electric light company in this city. A number of our business men have signified their willingness to take stock in the enterprise, and the projectors are receiving great encouragement from our citizens generally.

Henry Finney, the colored boy who was arrested in Chicago some time ago, on the charge of robbing Messrs. Wakeland & West's cash drawer, brought to this city and discharged by the examining court, was rearrested on Wednesday and lodged in jail, an indictment having been found against him by the last grand jury for the same offense.

Master Carroll Walcutt was wrestling with a playmate on the pavement in front of Von Lechen's European Hotel Saturday morning, when his right foot turned under him and he fell, spraining his foot and breaking one of the small bones of the ankle. Dr. Jas. Elly was called and reduced the fracture, and the little fellow is getting along first rate, though will hardly be able to enjoy any of the Christmas fun.

Messrs. S. Fuhs & Bro. have purchased a lot on the corner of Wilkinson and Clinton streets and erected upon it a nice large store-room, with a residence of four rooms above, and will to-day open a first-class grocery and confectionery at that point. The building is quite an ornament to that part of the city, the carpenter's work being executed under the supervision of Mr. John Whitehead, while Mr. Chas. Rosson had the contract for the painting, both of whom did themselves great credit. Read Messrs. Fuhs' advertisement in another column.

An elegant entertainment was given Messrs. P. J. Parker and John A. Brisman, at Weitzel's Hall, on Tuesday evening, by their young friends in this city, on the eve of their departure for Florida. The company consisted of about thirty couples, and the early part of the evening was spent in dancing, delightful music being furnished by Prof. Wayland Graham. At eleven o'clock all were invited to partake of an elegant supper, which was spread by Mr. Jerome Weitzel, Jr. As Messrs. Parker and Brisman entered the dining room Mr. C. E. Collins, who presided over the supper, addressed them as follows:

Young friends: We have requested your presence here tonight that we might, if possible, make you the object of much interest and regard in which we hold you. Would that I were able to command language sufficient to express the sentiments of each heart here-to-night. Had I this gift, I am sure that history describes not a character more exalted than I would picture.

Friends to me are natural, that when surrounded by blessings, or when in the possession of valuable gifts, we do not stop to think of their worth in the fullness of enjoyment which they can give. It is only when we are compelled to be separated that we truly realize their value.

Dear friends, you have been reared among us, we have known you from your childhood, we have been blest with your sunny smiles, we have given you every day your pleasure, we have witnessed your integrity and known your worth.

It is now, when you are on the eve of tearing your eyes from us, that we truly realize how much we have loved you, and how greatly you will be missed.

Although we are unable to give you up, we append the many afflictions which prompts you to tear asunder the tethers which bind you to the happy home of your childhood, to bathe with the world in a strange land. We are sorry to see you go, but we trust in God, and in whatever shelter you may choose to direct your steps, you are well equipped for that noble fight.

You possess, not abundantly, the qualities which will entitle you not only to leadership in the land of your adoption, but you will be ornate to whatever country you enter.

Were you less firm, were you less fit for our undertaking, we would be more loath to give you up.

Since you are resolved to go, we say may joy go with you, and when you have fulfilled your mission, when you have won the hearts of those of your choice, should you desire to return to your old friends, be assured you will be received with open arms and with joyous hearts. Until then shall bid you a God speed in the land of your destination, and may your paths be all sunshiny and ever strew with the most fragrant flowers.

To which Mr. Parker responded as follows:

Dear friends and associates:

We cannot find words to express our gratitude to you, one and all, for this mark of esteem you have tendered us to-night on the eve of our departure for our distant Sunny Southern Home. It is indeed gratifying to us to see that we have some friends, to whom we will add those we will not be forgotten.

No, we are certain it will not be so, and rest assured we will in turn not fail to think ever of our many friends and companions, who have been so kind to us.

How often we meet again on this frail earth may we all meet in Heaven, that land God has created for us all.

Speeches were also made by Mr. Jas. McAuliffe and others.

Altogether the evening was an exceedingly pleasant one, and was greatly enjoyed by all present, notwithstanding the sad words good-bye were soon to be spoken.

TWO PLUCKY WOMEN.

Who Took Matters into Their Own Hands and Came Out Ahead

Cooley's (Norwich, Conn.) Weekly. — "I thought every man gentleman in this cap," exclaims a plucky little woman with black eyes and of hoy-like appearance, in a street car the other day, "they would not allow this brute of a drunkard to annoy me. I'd like to be free of him for half an hour, I'd dress him."

Poured by her justifiable anger, the general well-dressed damehce went upon the platform. The little lady quickly sprang to the door, braced herself against it, and cried out, "Now come in if you can!" And he did not come in!

The habit of independence should be encouraged whenever possible and exercised whenever necessary for the maintenance of personal rights. It requires a deal of pluck for a woman to do this, but it pays every time. We were forcibly impressed with this fact by a conversation had last week with Mrs. S. A. Clark, of East Granby, Conn. Any woman pursued by a revengeful foe, will appreciate what she says.

For over ten years, on every possible occasion, and chiefly when she was least on her guard, a mysterious enemy made covert attacks upon her. She would open her door for the woman she could meet, but an ambushed enemy was horribly exasperating. She called to her aid the wisest and most discreet friends she had.

She expended all the money she could spare to detect and dislodge him. But she could not succeed and was forced to distraction.

A woman residing in Iowa was sent for to comfort her in her anxiety. When she learned what her mother had suffered, with true Western pluck, she told her that she must take courage, do as she could, and she would triumph over her foe. For ten long years she had been annoyed and at the break of day, held in lifelong spinal weakness, hot head, cold hands and feet, fever that her effect was getting fatal. Her health and spirits finally broke down under the strain, and in 1875 she suffered unutterable tortures for several months from inflammation of the bladder. In 1876 she became lame and graved, and frequent attacks of chills and fever, overcome her. Her sufferings she says surpassed description. Finally her stomach refused all solid food, and for a month she lived on a teaspoonful of milk three times a day. Nervous prostration ensued. Sleep was impossible. Walker, out of despair, and in despair of relief, she took to her bed, continuing to die. She tried every reputable school of physicians, who agreed that she had a combination of desperate diseases common to women in middle life. While treating one the others died.

Six weeks from the time she took her daughter's advice and dismissed her expensive and useless professional attendants, she resumed her place at the table and from that day to this has been in sound and satisfactory health, which she attributes entirely to the use of Warner's Safe Cure. All her allays removed by infection of the kidneys and a poisoned state of the blood produced by that infection. This was her secret enemy.

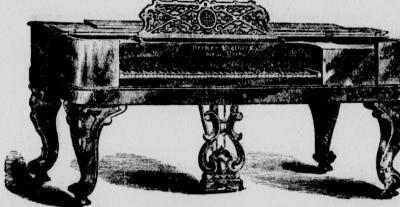

"If I were rich," she exclaimed to the reporter, "I would give that preparation to every suffering woman, for I am certain from my own bitter experience that many disorders and poisoned blood are the source of the many constitutional complaints to which women are subject."

Mrs. Clark is a very estimable lady, who is to be congratulated on having so effectively routed an enemy which had many years, indeed, and still harasses her. If other ladies would take the same course they would not be subject to these secret foes.

Mr. Minus Williams alone has the contract for putting up the stone abutments for the dam at Lock No. 5, and not Messrs. I. & M. Williams, as we stated last week.

The Midway Clipper says Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Nesbitt, of that place, are coming to this city to open a boardinghouse.

Capt. Sam. Goin says this is the best time in the year to set out shade trees, and he has a thousand nice young maples in his nursery.

John J. Cornelison, the Mt. Sterling lawyer who cowhielded Judge Richard Reid of the Superior Court, causing him to commit suicide, whose trial has been going on at Mt. Sterling for the past week, was sentenced by the court on Wednesday to three years' confinement in jail.

Reuben R. Springer, Esq., Cincinnati's wealthy business man and philanthropist, who died in that city on Wednesday, was born in this city in 1800. He had given in the last 9 years $310,300 to Music Hall, College of Music and other public institutions in that city.

Roll of honor for Stella E. Gobey, room for week ending Dec. 12th:

Annie Abraham 600, Lonie Drane 600, Minnie Dailey 600, Lottie Evans 600, Flossie French 600, Annie Magill 600, Nora Magill 600, Eva Macklin 600, Frances Wallace 600, Lindsey Blayney 600, Emma Wright 500, Canie Moyers 500, Linda Hughes 500, Lucy Hughes 500, Bonnie Hockensmith 500, Georgia Payne 500, John Bull 500, Jimmie Roberts 500, Sadie Grant 500, Agnes Brauner 500, Virgie Nelson 500, Frank Kavanaugh 500.

The city election passed off so quietly Saturday that unless a person knew it was going on he would never have discovered it, unless he accidentally walked right up to the polls; but now that it is over the successful candidates are being elected one by one for the positions to be filled by them far more than they were elected for themselves. The following gentlemen were elected: First Ward—E. H. Taylor, Jr., Minus Williams and Richard Tobin, Second Ward—L. Mangum, R. C. Church and Jerry Branson, Third Ward—Thos. B. Ford, Richard Ferguson and L. Tobin.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock Wednesday morning the grocery of Messrs. H. Stabenau & Co., on the corner of Washington and Mero streets, was entered by a thief and all the change left in the cash drawers, amounting to five dollars in nickels, carried off. An entrance was effected by cutting a slot out of one of the shutters of a window on the side of the house next to Washington street, opening them and raising the window. In getting out of the window he dropped two dollars of the money in the presence, where it was found after day-light. One of the cash drawers was carried several squares and thrown into the street when emptied of its contents.

Pope's Theatre was opened yesterday by Dickson's Sketch Club, "Edited by Burge & Company." The company of fame and the results were most gratifying to the audiences, which were large and appreciative. In the first place, the organization is unique. There is nothing like it in this or any other country within hearing of the telegraph or telephone. It has made and continues to do well. Its own success. The members of the club have written its plays—Messrs. Gus Thomas and Edgar Smith, authors and actors—and they act in them. They have also had the good sense to select people best qualified for other parts necessary to a complete entertainment. They owe nothing to anybody, except for a few modest hits which come in as specialties. Altogether, this is a good clean, bright, talented company, and the Dickson's Sketch Club offers what is its own. It deserves success for talent and honesty.—St. Louis Republic.

The above company will appear at the Opera House this evening at 8 o'clock. Reserved seats for sale at Barrett's.

In our notice last week of the shipments of whisky from this point we should have said 800 barrels per week instead of per month.

To the Memory of Mrs. R. E. Collins.

Although we gave her back to dust,
With aching hearts and weeping eyes,
We know her spirit left its shell
To soar triumphant to the skies.

She was a neighbor kind and true,
A mother fond, a faithful wife,
And nearly fifty years she trod
The path of mortal life.

Farewell, dear wife, "Our mother's gone!"
And wipe away the full g. tears,
Four angels shot with glad acclaim,
"Oh, joy! Our darling m'kin's here!"

Another spirit joins the throng,
And gladly sings, "Oh, welcome wife,
Companion of my earthly joys!
Now partner of my heavenly life!"

We leave her to eternal bliss,
Children, lift up your tear wet eyes,
And follow in the Savior's steps
To meet your mother in the skies!

Mrs. W. LESLIE COLLINS.

Obituary

Little Evans, infant son of Oscar and Mary Hailes, after a severe illness from which he was born, passed away, on the 2nd of October, aged 6 months. His mother died in giving birth to him. Such a sweet angelic lad, the angel would not pass it back if it had been transplanted to the immortal realms of Paradise. There were no sin or death to bring him down, forever to dwell with him in the bright realms of bliss, where the shades of night

Blessed be this little angel babe, with eyes of azure blue, who can never be replaced, and may his spirit return again to earth, but can greet them with a song of joy and gladness in Heaven. Rest in peace, my son, and may your most heartfelt sympathy go to the sad, heart-broken mother and mother in their deep affliction.

The Favorite Roller Patent flour, made by Lexington Roller Mills Company, makes fine bread.

Is your system running down? Is there a feeling of decrepitude taking possession of you? Are the functions of your digestive and assimilative organs impaired? Is your blood faint? Sores and pimples trouble you? Do you suffer from aches and pains? Are you weak, and does the least exertion give you fatigue? Beware! Regain perfect health by using Dr. Guyot's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla.

FOR RENT.—One half of a house on Second street, four rooms and a hall. Apply at this office.

Don't fail to call at Philip Selbert's jewelry store and examine the best selected stock of goods in his line ever brought to this city.

For sarsaparilla, saponiniferous disorders, thin and watery blood, sluggish liver (indicated by poor digestion), weak kidneys (indicated by urinary sediments), diseased mucous membrane (indicated by both nasal and urinary catarrh, inflamed eyelids, etc.), use Dr. Guyot's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. It gradually rebuilds a broken down constitution, restores robust health and strength to every part. No other remedy equals it.

As a raindrop foretells a storm, so does a pimple upon the human body indicate health-destroying virus in the blood, which can be neutralized and expelled only by Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic.
